Graphic designer Susi Berger-Wyss (1938–2019) and artist Ueli Berger (1937–2008) designed furniture together for over forty years, creating a number of Swiss design icons. For the exhibition PA-DONG! The Furniture of Susi and Ueli Berger at the Museum für Gestaltung Zurich, the Stacking Table, originally produced in a very limited edition, was made available again as a reedition by the Circle of Friends. The table was chosen for its versatility, practicality, and very special look. Jasper Morrison, a fan of the design, wrote: “I wouldn’t mind a set of these three metal stacking tables in my home. I like the rounded cut-out holes, which contrast the squareness of everything else, reduce the weight (and material), and give the tables their character.” The table comes in traffic black, signal white, signal red, or traffic blue.
